All Countries	(19.0)	(11.0)
U.S.	(20.7)	(9.7)
Non-U.S.	(15.2)	(13.9)

Electricity Sales

- In the first five months of 2010, the value of domestic sales declined while exports have increased. Mild weather conditions and the rise in the Canadian dollar contributed to slower sales.
- In 2009, the value of Manitoba electricity sales declined. Domestic sales increased while exports were down.
- Approximately 80% of export sales are to the United States with the balance to other Canadian provinces. Export sales to the U.S. are priced in $US; consequentially the decline was substantially influenced by the rising Canadian dollar.
